

Hervé Alexandre – Director of Business Development, Air France Industries KLM Engineering & Maintenance

After graduating from the French National School of Aviation, Hervé ALEXANDRE started his carrier in Canada in 1984, working for Transport Canada. He, then, joined Air Inter in France leading an avionics workshop. He moved to Air France in 1997, where he had various top management positions in components and led for Air France several mergers and acquisitions as well as international projects. In 2004, he is responsible for business development in the Americas for 6 years based in Miami, Florida. Back to France in 2010, he becomes the Vice President of Engineering and Maintenance Procurement for Air France. Now Director of Business Development for Engineering and Maintenance at Air France KLM since 2015.

AIRFRANCE KLM